

Put Your Whole Brain to Work: 90-Minutes to Better Decision Making

Thursday
April 20
7pm-8:30pm

Registration online. Space is limited.
Appropriate for high school students and up.

Are you logical, analytical, fact-based & quantitative? Perhaps more intuitive & integrating, or maybe even emotional & interpersonal? This interactive workshop has been adapted for our BFL Community from a version delivered to dozens of companies and universities.

You will appreciate not only your preferred styles of thinking, but you will appreciate the power of more diverse thinking – and how to apply your style to fit your working and living environments. As a result, you'll improve communication and critical thinking performance.

What do you appreciate when you listen to a Presentation? Are you listening for Facts, Form, Feelings or Future thinking?

You can be more agile in your own thinking. Would you like to understand how others' might be thinking about what you might be thinking?

In this engaging, colorful, fun learning workshop, we will understand the practical application of a powerful tool that can help you navigate better in your business – and personal - interactions.

Raymond Infarinato, a Leadership Consultant, is a certified HBDI® Instructor who has worked to solve business problems for dozens of Fortune 500 clients while at PwC and IBM. Previously, he worked in Media and Entertainment for CBS, FOX and Sony Tri-Star Productions.

He is likely delivering a Whole Brain® Thinking workshop at an organization near you. <http://www.Linkedin.com/in/raymondinfarinato>
